SUMMARY

Data analyst with eight years of experience working with data inside communications and project roles: tracking KPIs, optimising conversion funnels, building reporting frameworks and turning analytics into decisions across the EU third sector, SaaS and international cooperation. Now backed by a full technical stack (Python, SQL, Power BI, Tableau) and a CDMP certification in data management. My background in Human Rights Law gives the data work a direction: I care about what the numbers represent, who they affect, and whether the people who act on them understand what they are looking at.
